Theatre	Social Networking, Fandom and Web 2.0 Do you remember the days of Usenet? Or when it was a shocking thing to set up a Yahooogroup to host your own fics? When you could set up a Geocities site or an EZBoard in a few hours to list or discuss your fic recs? Whether you do or you don't, you're invited to this panel where we remember the past and look to the future of the web, social networking and interactivity. What will the impact of the Kindle be on fic? How has YouTube changed fanvids? How can you use Zazzle to make a statement about a show or film? And do fans want or need a fandom-friendly space for their creative expression? Presenters include Mark Smith, Denise Paolucci, Melissa Anelli and Lori Sammey Moderated by Henry Jenkins		Fair Use and Fan Creativity Once upon a time, on a dark and stormy night, a creative fic with lovely illustrations and a trailer set to a dazzling sone was beset upon by a massive, six headed dragon, bellowing fires about infringement, crimes and evil theft! Luckily, the clever fic, brave illustrations and strong vid - and their friend, MegaMeta - knew about the protective shields of transformative use, fair use and the First Amendment! Hear their story at this panel. Panelists include Lev Grossman, Fred Von Lohmann, Aaron Schwabach and Julie Cromer-Young Moderated by Heidi Tandy		Creativity is Magic - Harry Potter products, trips, exhibits and amusement parks We'll look at the products and services inspired by the Potterverse, including the 20Q dolls and action figures, the Chicago exhibition, fan trips and the Wizarding World of Harry Potter at Universal Studios with some of their creators and innovators.
